MESSAGE

It gives me immense pleasure to extend my warmest congratulations and best wishes to the ITAT Bar Association, Delhi, on the occasion of the relaunch of its website on 6th November, 2026.

The revamped website is a welcome initiative towards embracing technology and making the functioning of the Bar Association more accessible, interactive and user-friendly. Its enhanced content management system, registration and login facilities, and access to important unreported orders will undoubtedly make it a valuable resource for members of the Bar and the wider tax law fraternity.

I particularly appreciate the introduction of the Legal Aid Scheme, aimed at assisting litigants in need in preparing and presenting their cases before the Tribunal. This is a commendable step towards promoting access to justice and ensuring that financial constraints do not become an insurmountable barrier to effective legal representation.

The initiative reflects the Bar Association's commitment not only to the professional advancement of its members but also to the larger cause of justice and public service. I am confident that the new website will serve as an effective platform for knowledge-sharing, professional interaction and meaningful engagement among all stakeholders.

I congratulate the President, office-bearers and members of the ITAT Bar Association, Delhi, as well as everyone associated with the development of this initiative. I wish the Association every success in this endeavour and hope that the new website will continue to evolve as a vibrant and valuable resource for years to come.

With my very best wishes.

(Mahavir Singh)
